Here and There.

The Lamps are really here! Is this a coincident, or is it forethought on the part of the Council to have them in readiness for the Bishop's visit on Saturday next. I understand all the arrangements are now made for his Lordship's visit to the town. The Churchwardens will meet the train, and Mr. McLeod will take him in his car to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Lewis, who will have the honor of entertaining him, and where he will be quashed to rest until six o'clock,
when he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George McLeod to a dinner given in his honor to the Churchwardens and Vestrymen. At 8 o'clock his Lordship will be driven to Mrs. Boyle's house, which she has most kindly placed at the disposal of the ladies, who wish naturally to do their share. Tea, refreshments and music will be served during the evening.
all are heartily invited, and I expect
there will be quite a crowd there all anxious to meet and be introduced to the Bishop of Calgary.

On Sunday morning there will be Confirmation followed by Holy Communion presided over by the Bishop and assisted by the Rev. Mr. Dingle at 11 a.m.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Dingle spent Easter with Mrs. Moscop.

There was a good congregation on Good Friday evening, and a larger one on Easter-Sunday at the Anglican Church.
Amongst others present I was pleased to see Mr. and Mrs. Sam Collins, which I hope means that their baby who has been ill is making better progress.

I understand the Union Church was packed on Sunday evening, and that they had an excellent musical programme.
Mrs. Shaw presided at the organ. No doubt too, with Mr. Berry at his best,
that he requires a good deal of beating.

On Friday Crossfield looked quite a military town with Sergeant Coulthart, Progers Evans and Clark and Tristram Hughes, all looking very smart in their uniforms. Now boys, don't they make you feel as though you would like to join and do your part in this time of need.

Now is the time to think about planting trees, may I suggest, to the School Trustees that they put in an application to the Government for trees for the School grounds. What an improvement
it would be, and the cost so very small.

Spring is here (?) (Its hailing to beat the band.—Printer.) Now is the time for a general clean up. The scavenger suggests that each householder should collect all old tins, etc. together and throw them into an old fruit barrel. Which he will remove for the small sum of 10c. per barrel.

Farmers and others, requiring the services of boys to help on farms,
should apply to the Superintendent of Neglected Children, Old Parliament Buildings, Edmonton, Alberta,
who has a number of good strong boys available for farm work. Homes of good standing are required. Applications will be treated with all confidence, and full information
given freely on any questions which applicants may ask.

The first public meeting in this part of the Cochrane Riding on the prohibition campaign was held in the Union Church on Wednesday evening, and considering the busy season of the farmers was well attended. Mr. A. A. Hall was chairman. He called attention to the fact that the U.F.A. were thoroughly in sympathy and were lined up for action. Rev. Hugh Dobson, B.A., B.D., of Regina, who formerly held the chair of Science and Sociology was the speaker. He had a good lantern and used many slides to illustrate his points. He gave special attention to the effect of alcohol on the human system. In a championship walking match held at Kiel, Germany, 50 non-abstainers and 24 abstainers entered. The abstainers won 60 per cent. of the prizes, taking the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places, 22 of the drinkers fell out by the way and only 3 of the abstainers. The Swedish army made a series of tests in target shooting, 30 shots were fired in quick succession. On the non-drinking days an average of 24 hits were made, but on the drinking days when the same men had a pint and a quarter of 4 per cent. beer the average was only 3 hits out of the 30 and yet the men were certain they had done better work. Is it any wonder that Lord Kitchener and other military leaders should be so strongly opposed to the use of liquor. Alcohol greatly increases the desire for recovery. Insurance records show that drink shortens life at 30 years of age by 11 per cent.

Mrs. A. A. Hall was a visitor to Calgary on Thursday.

Miss A. Halliday is spending the week with friends in Calgary.

Miss Nicholson was a visitor to Calgary on Thursday.

96th Anniversary of the Independent Order of Oddfellows.

The 96th anniversary of the above order will be observed in the Union Church, Crossfield, on Sunday, April 25th, at the hour of 8 p.m.

R. J. C. Stead known as the Prairie Poet, will give the address.

The following are a few clippings from some of the leading newspapers on Mr. Stead's work:

The West Land, Edmonton: Both collections have strength, insight and sympathy, and their truthfulness to fact is that of a man who knows the life he writes about.

Winnipeg Saturday Post: Stead is the Service of the Prairies--the first real poet the plains have produced. He has the optimism, the enthusiasm, the bounding vigour of the red-blooded, full-pulsed west. His poems are the west, and to Mr. Stead we take off our hats and wish him success.

Vancouver Province: Ranging from the colloquial to the pathetic, and displaying considerable variety, the author (Stead) has produced a book which will not only be read with interest by dwellers on the plains, but which will no doubt prove attractive to many who have never seen the prairie.

Toronto Saturday Night: -- the poet "Prairie" of the prairie.

Toronto Globe: The Laneship of the Canadian prairies has been fairly earned by Robert J. C. Stead.

The address on Prohibition given by Mr. E. H. Morrow, J.P., at the meeting of the Women's Institute, in the Fire Hall, on Saturday afternoon last was interesting and illuminating and should be heard by a much larger audience. He showed prohibition to be part of the great evolutionary process of reform from the early days of the Greek nation, making for the social well-being, not of a special class, but humanity. He called attention to the remarkable progress of prohibition sentiment, particularly during the past few months throughout the civilized world. Canute might as well seek to drive back or stop the incoming tide as for any class to stop the onward rush of the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

CROSSFIELD, ALTA., APR. 8, 1915.

Correspondence.

Mr. Editor,—I saw in his notes on "Here and There" seems to be much concerned these days by the fact that the proposed Liquor Bill now before the people of Alberta permits a small quantity of liquor for personal use. Now Sir, I admit some who are real opponents of the present traffic may not be perfectly satisfied with this measure because it is not absolute prohibition, but I am certain that the vast majority who raise this objection do so to blind the issue. They are opposed to any retrenchment. For a generation it has been the advocates of the present traffic who have been harping "Prohibition doesn't prohibit," all because it does succeed.

It is well to understand just where we stand. This "Liquor Act" is not a measure of Government measure but has been brought before us under the Direct Legislation Act by the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League. The Act is based on the best features of the various Acts in Canada and U.S. It abolishes all bars, clubs and wholesale liquor licenses and goes to the limit of the Provincial power. The Dominion Government alone may prohibit the manufacture, transportation and importation of liquor, but while the province may not prevent the manufacture or importation this act makes illegal the having or keeping for beverage purposes on any premises more than one quart of spirits or two gallons of malt liquors which cannot be purchased in the Province. It is thus a total prohibition of the traffic in alcoholics as a beverage. To some this may seem a real defect but to the vast majority of men it commends itself as a sane, just, timely measure.

But, Mr. Editor, this is not the time to debate whether this Act is better than one calling for absolute prohibition but whether it is wise to take the opportunity it offers to close the bar-rooms, club-bars and wholesale liquor stores. It aims a deadly blow at the treating system. I believe there is no better law in Canada or the U.S. where prohibition has been regarded as so effective. Ex-Governor Stubbins of Kansas, makes this striking and convincing statement:—"I will guarantee that you cannot find a business man of standing in the State who will not testify that prohibition is the best business asset of Kansas."

Paw's remarks make me think that this range of vision is very much restricted. It is aware of the awakening that is taking place in the whole civilized world against this awful business? Sweden recently voted thirty to one to go dry. Russia is dry, and France also from Abstinence. In the U.S. since last September eight States have been voted dry, making a total of 17 dry States in the Union. Paw seems to be more interested in championing the claims of the town scavenger, and in the movements along our back lanes than in any of the great world movements for a betterment of the race. He reminds me of some of the English workmen referred to by Lloyd George and Lord Kitchener, who were more concerned in "their toulies" than in Britain over her enemies. If Paw is really in favor of the law and its results let him come out into the open and declare himself—we want no snipers at this time.

CITIZEN.

Crossfield.

To the Residents, Ratepayers, Business Men and others.

Ladies and Gentlemen:
I wish to thank you all very much indeed for the kind way in which you supported me this last week, by signing a petition to the Scavenger work of this town. The Council has decided to give me the work for another month. I mention that the petition was signed by a large majority of the resident ratepayers who were eligible to sign, also by the majority of business men.

Again thanking you for your support.

Yours truly,
FRANK MOSSOP.
